

Greetings from President

Ms. Cecily Bernard

As the President of the new TLI, I am pleased to greet you our valued clients and share with you our renewed vision and mission, introduce our expanded global team and inform of the additional areas that we're now equipped to serve you from this year.

As we journey towards the realization of our vision of being a company with a growing share of the global market for language acquisition, translation and interpreting services through our reputation for high standards and excellent service, TLI has this year invested in the selection, training and expansion of its own local team and the joining of forces with our e-learning partners from the USA to make your experience a truly superior one.

As you move to enhance your global communications or simply to improve your language skills in 2012, I encourage you to take advantage of any or all of our services. It will truly be a joy to serve you!

Greetings from Vice President

Dr. Dale Dan

At a time when globalism has reached an all-time high, we recognize the need to synchronize learning needs worldwide in central online classrooms. We are relentless in our effort to do this effectively, efficiently and in such a manner that students leave our classrooms feeling a deep sense of fulfillment.

I welcome you to our onsite and online classes. Through our online classes, we have incredible potential to reach people who would never be able to attend our regular on-site classes. What is the end result? It is the development of leaders who are able to master language & cultures in order to create dynamic world change. It is about seeing change in the lives of young adult students through a dynamic learning process onsite & online.
